My dear Emma

Your Mercury was as successful as he was faithful: our company will be acceptable at half past 6. and I am to invite Mr. Thompson! How I have little doubt if I were to tell him to-morrow morning that you were to be at Mr. Pi-he would give up some dec:

trincering enjoyment.

How right I to be the means of placing temptation in his way?

Surely your moral sentiment, cannot advise such a step!

Affectionately Yours

J. B. Collins

To put you out of suspense I must humbly inform you that Mr. Brown has just assured me that G. T. has a meeting to-morrow evening which he could not be absent from.
